BROADMOOR VOTERS EXPECTED TO REJECT INCORPORATION ISSUE

Few, if any, of the 1742 registered voters in the Broadmoor-Garden Village areas are expected to cast affirmative votes in next Tuesday's Northgate incorporation election. Outcome at the polls was really decided November 4 when the county board of supervisors cut proposed Northgate boundaries to include only the two residential areas, making it economically unfeasible for the formation of San Mateo county's 14th city.

Disinterest in the election is shown by the fact that not one of the original proponents for incorporation bothered to file for the post of councilman, although several men announced their candidacy before the action by the supervisors. County Clerk John A. Bruning has announced that write-in candidates would be elected should incorporation be accepted by the voters.

Both the Broadmoor Property owners association and the Broadmoor Police district advise voters to cast a negative ballot on Tuesday. Both base their contention on the fact that it would prove financially unsound for the two residential localities to be incorporated.

New Police Department

Secondary reason for the decision of the police district is that "should the affirmative vote carry in this matter, it would necessitate the forming of a new police department this department on an efficient basis of 'protection of life and property' as designated by the California health and safety code. We will assist residents in any matter within our jurisdiction, no matter how trivial it may seem at the time.

BROADMOOR COPS HIT BACK AT BAUGHMAN STUDY

Broadmoor police commission and chief of police Ray Savage this week denied allegations made recently in the Baughman report regarding the fiscal policies of the Broadmoor police district.

In a prepared statement the Broadmoor police said, "This department has never received a copy of the report but from portions published in the newspaper it appears that Mr. Baughman has attempted to show many deficiencies which we know do not exist in this department."

The district said they had submitted allegations made in the Baughman report to District Attorney Keith Sorenson "for legal rulings relative to our administration of this police district." They continued that, "The records of this department are open to public inspection at all times and an audit of the finances will be effected at the end of the present fiscal year.

"We realize that we are furnishing many services which are not classed in the category of 'protection of life and property,' but we feel that in any instance where we can assist any resident, we always have and will continue to do so, in spite of the Baughman report."

The statement claimed that, "our statistical report for 1955 will show, without fear of contradiction, the necessity for the present police protection.

"We will continue to administer

Supervisors Mum On County Flood District

The subject of a county-wide flood control district, which would be financed by levying a 10 cent per $100 tax, was broached before the county supervisors Tuesday, but response to the proposal was anything but enthusiastic.

Thomas Callan Sr., chairman of the board, cited the serious flood and erosion problem in the Broadmoor area as reason for the special district. Callan attended a special Broadmoor flood meeting last Thursday.

Supervisor William Werder told Callan he was not in favor of the idea, but would give it some thought. Other supervisors were silent on the chairman's proposal.

Callan said he would continue to work actively for such a district, as he promised Broadmoor residents at the meeting last week.

E. Vista Mud Damage Set At $5100; Engineers Keep Close Watch On Hills

AFTERMATH of Saturday night's mud waves which swept down over East Vista avenue finds city equipment cleaning up earth on Hillside boulevard which reached depths of four feet in some places. THE RECORD photo

In the wake of a mighty mud flow that rumbled off the hills in eastern Daly City Saturday night, City Engineer C. F. Weiler today assessed costs of repairing homes, yards and streets at $5100.

Weiler broke down damages as follows: breakage at two homes, $1000; replacement of bulkheads, walls, fences, $500; restoration of yards and shrubbery and cleaning out mud, $3000; cost to the city for opening catch basins, cleaning up streets, $600.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Root and their daughter, Patricia, 12, of 159 East Vista, along with Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Melton and their two children, Bonnie, 9, and Wendy, 16 months, had to be evacuated from their homes as torrents of mud piled over bulkheads and punched out windows in their homes. Later that night, however, they were allowed to return when the mud threat was averted.

Guardsmen Work

Some 40 members of Company L, 159th infantry, of Vista Grande platoon, National Guard, labored in the darkness to clean up several hundred tons of mud that threatened to sweep the two homes off their foundations.

In addition to the Guardsmen, about 30 city employees, including street and water department workers, firemen and policemen, aided in the clean-up efforts and helped avert the flow of mud in its early stages. Equipment used included three trucks, a blade grader, end loader and one fire truck. Clean-up work extended over 15 hours.

The mud flow, which scooped a gaping crevice some 200 feet long, 10 to 12 feet deep and 10 to 15 feet wide up the hillside into the Crocker Estate, apparently started when the ground could no longer hold any more water, after intense rains here.

No Surface Water

Weiler said there was no surface water visible on the hill. The ground water, he said, had saturated the earth and was flowing between the surface of the soil and a layer of rock strata. When the water seeped to the rock layer, it could go no further, Weiler explained, and loosened the whole mass of earth above the rock. Because of the steep incline and the weight of the water-logged earth, the entire portion of the mountainside started sliding downward, undercutting the topsoil. Portions of the rock layer were exposed in some sections where the mud flow had cut deepest.

Weiler estimated that between 800 and 1000 cubic yards of mud

PLANNERS DENY SECOND INGRESS TO GAS STATION

Application for a Market street entrance to a proposed gas station at Market and Hillside boulevard was rejected unanimously by the county planning commission Wednesday.

Owner Rose Gioldi, who has entered an option agreement with Union Oil Co. to sell property on the southwest corner of the intersection, sought an "encroachment" permit for the Market street ingress.

When the planners previously approved use permit for the property, it was with the stipulation that only Hillside boulevard be used for an entrance. Some 325 residents of southeastern Daly City had protested permit for the gas station because of its proximity to Colma school.

Attorney Paul McCarthy represented the applicant Wednesday.

Thief Takes $250 Fur Stole From Parked Car

A $250 Russian Fitch fur stole was reported stolen Sunday from Mrs. Lois Theresa Fairall, 551 Hillside boulevard.

Mrs. Fairall told police that she parked her car at School street near Mission to make a phone call and returned three minutes later to find the stole gone.

Jeff High Boy Nearly Drowns

A Jefferson Union High school student, Steve Van Otten, was reported in good condition today at Junipero Serra hospital after a near-drowning in the school pool Wednesday morning. The boy, 15, is the son of Daly City Police Officer and Mrs. John Van Otten, 68-B Westlake avenue.

The accident occurred when Steve and several other boys were playing at holding their breath under water in the deep end of the pool, according to Mike Orlich, physical education department head. Orlich said that Tony Giammona, other faculty member on duty, was the first to notice that the youth had blacked out.

Giammona yelled at a student, Ron Bygum, who was closer to Steve, to rescue him. Bygum dived in and dragged Steve to the side of the pool where he was hauled out by Orlich and Giammona.

Orlich said he and Giammona gave artificial respiration until the arrival of firemen who worked over the boy with an inhalator. Steve was unconscious for approximately 20 minutes.

He was rushed by police ambulance to the hospital where attendants said he will probably be released today.

Muni Court Costs For DC In Error, Councilman Claims

Councilman Del Wilson suggested Monday night that an "error" had been made when Daly City's cost share of supporting the northern district municipal court was set at 24 per cent, while South San Francisco pays only 12 per cent.

Out of all traffic and criminal fines levied by the municipal court for offenses here, the court retains 24 per cent.

Wilson claimed, "Someone higher up told me this figure was an error." The councilman maintained this 24 per cent figure was much too high, compared with South San Francisco's 12 per cent.

Wilson said he thought the council should write 25th district Assemblyman Richard K. Dolwig and ask him to investigate the inequity.

City Manager Howard Stites suggested that Wilson first take the matter up with the League of California Cities, which was instrumental in establishing the municipal court system.

Wilson also decried the fact that South San Francisco receives $2100 a year rent for allowing the court to use the council chambers, while Daly City receives no rent for the one day a week in which traffic court is conducted here.

He proposed the city charge $50

McGraw's Pharmacy in Daly City received a note this week that few people would have written:

"Dear Sir,

"Enclosed you will find ten dollars given me accidentally in change. Last November I gave you a ten dollar bill and received change for a twenty. I intended to bring it back but have not gotten a chance to do so.

Such are the little things that enrich the workaday life of a businessman—but they are few and far between.

RUBY of Wit's End Tavern reported to police Saturday night that she was at her "Wit's End" trying to cope with DEAN FRANCIS O'CONNOR, the most regular inhabitant of Daly City's jail.

Dean, as is the custom, was booked on a drunk charge and spent the night at his familiar confines.

CHARLES GARRISON, 462 San Diego, related to police Saturday night a tableau that must have been a mite disconcerting:

A woman was seen at Theta and Mission without any hair, and close behind was a man with—you guessed it—a handful of hair. My detectives report there is some connection between the two parties.

By far the outstanding vignette off the police blotter, however, is a story of great fortitude on the part of mankind.

A Bellevue avenue resident requested a bed for the night at the police station, explaining that his mother-in-law was at his home and that he did not care to return there.

J. PAUL GREEN, former Daly City mayor, is now associated with California-Western States life insurance, we learn from a business card forwarded here.

Park Chief Sought By Rec Group

Establishment of a full-time supervisor of parks position at a salary range of $358 to $435 was recommended by the Daly City recreation commission at their meeting Tuesday night.

In recommending the position to the council, the commission also called for the personnel board to take steps to call for applicants. Person hired to the position will have supervision over planting and lawn maintenance at the various parks.

The commission announced the hiring of two new employees, a custodian for the community center and a part-time secretary for Recreation Director James Mason. The new custodian is Vincent De Bono. His salary range is $281 to $341. Carole May Warford will assume the secretary position, working three hours a day for $1.55 per hour.

Community center dates approved by the commission included: February 22, Jefferson High school district play; February 25, Shipley & Maple dance recital.

Letters of thanks were received from St. Vincent De Paul society and American War Mothers.

WIVES, TAKE HEED

Wives take heed from the following story pilfered from the files of the Daly City police:

Hugh Pahlow, 39, 314 Irvington street, and his wife were driving on Geary street in downtown San Francisco last Wednesday at 1:30 a.m. when an argument developed.

Pahlow apparently got mad—very mad. He slammed on the brakes, and without a word of farewell, left the car and his wife in the middle of the street.

Mrs. Pahlow does not know how to drive. However, a kind-hearted motorist, seeing her plight, came to her aid and parked the car.

She somehow got home to Daly City, but not so her husband, who was still missing at press time a week later.

BROADMOOR HARD HIT

Citizens Want Action To Stop Erosion

More than 100 homeowners, the largest crowd ever to attend a Broadmoor Property Owners association meeting, assembled Thursday night in a stormy session with county officials over a solution to the community's worsening erosion problem.

County officials, headed by chairman of the board of supervisors, Thomas Callan Sr., heard more than 15 residents tell of extensive damage to their property and protest the county's "inaction" in taking preventative measures.

The Jefferson High School district, represented by Board Chairman Lyal Ingersoll and Trustee Elio Fontana, also were targets of the angered crowd's wrath for creating a large part of the water run-off by alleged inadequate drainage measures at the new Westmoor school site off Skyline boulevard.

Three Avenues

While the 2½ hour-session apparently did not appease the homeowners who had been victims of recent floods and erosions, three avenues were given by Callan as possible solutions.

One was levying of a 10-cent per $100 valuation tax through a county-wide flood abatement district. The second proposal was formation of a Broadmoor flood-control district and the third an area-wide bond issue.

The last was held the least feasible, while in a show of hands, most of the Broadmoor residents seemed to favor the county-wide flood district plan.

Callan explained that a 10-cent tax would raise approximately $480,000, of which he thought "about $150,000" could be spent in the Broadmoor area over a period of years.

Asked for a definite committment, Callan said he would work actively for a county-wide district, although Lyal Edson, deputy district attorney, told him he didn't know if the county had legislation empowering them to spend money for such uses.

"Find A Way"

"I think we can take it out of the general fund," said the supervisor. "We'll find a way to get around it."

Vincent Cauchi, chairman of the BPOA's erosion committee, outlined the situation at the opening of the meeting when he said, "The problem is going to become worse in the future. Improper drainage is the reason—there's water coming from places where it never came before. Larchmont has never been so bad and Sweetwood's the same. The lands are just about abolished." He said the water was draining down from the Westmoor High school site through Westlake and down San Pedro road to Wildwood. "There's more water draining down there than we've ever had before."

Directing his remarks at the high school trustees, Callan said, "You'll have to do some explaining tonight."

Callan concurred that the chief source of the water was the high school site, and asked why the district had not provided drainage facilities for the excess run-off created by the graded land.

Ingersoll said the "terrific storm" was at fault. "It's the worst I've seen in 30 years here," he exclaimed.

According to the school chairman, the district had constructed a berm to hold back the sand.

Go 50-50

Callan said, "I'll show you how big I am. If we find out the school's at fault the county will go 50-50 on the cost of cleaning the sand out of these people's back yards."

Citizens Want Action To Stop Erosion

Edson reminded Callan that, "It's a complete legal problem. I can't answer here whether you'd be allowed to do that."

Trustee Fontana, defending the school, said, "We built a dike around the land but the wind blew the water over it."

"But where did you expect the water to go?" inquired Callan about the four-foot drain the school district had built on the western slope of Westmoor, where it runs down into San Pedro road. "It used to go down into the artichokes," said the supervisor, drawing robust applause from the audience.

A plea that Governor Goodwin Knight move up the date for the special election to fill the 25th district Assembly vacancy was forwarded by Broadmoor Property Owners association this week.

Resolution urging the election be held before June 5 was passed by the directors Thursday night. They pointed out that money appropriations for flood damages would be an issue at the March budget session, and that northern San Mateo county would be without representation.

"Our village has incurred damage that already exceeds the estimated cost of a special election," the directors letter to the governor said. "When that damage is multiplied by the extensive damage in other areas of the 25th district, we consider it urgent that we be immediately represented by our own voting assemblyman to represent our interests on flood and water questions."

County Engineer Melville Grant said that the grading on the school site was adequate, but the district was "responsible for whatever happened." He said, "Perhaps the district was remiss in the type of berms you put up."

Asked by Director Howard Richardson if there was "any overall answer to our problem within our financial means," Grant answered, "No."

Spread Assessment

Grant said the only answer was to spread the assessment of cost over the entire watershed. "A pipe through the school grounds (Garden Village) would solve the problem at 87th and Washington street. The Lord is the only one who can stop the hills from sliding," philosophized the engineer, explaining that the recent rains were part of a "100-year-storm," or one that only occurred every 50 to 100 years.

"If the county's responsible you've got to do something about it," charged Director James McKay, to which Grant replied there were absolutely no funds available for drainage work in Broadmoor.

Among the citizens relating damage to their homes was Dr. Quentin Bonser, 1687 Sweetwood drive, who said, "We knew this was coming. When we saw the high school tearing off the hill we predicted this would happen. There was $1800 damage to our back yard. Every year there's been a lot of rain but no damage. This year there's a good deal of damage from the ditch purposely made by the school district."

Broadmoor Police Chief Ray Savage declared, "The responsibility lies with the county for approving the original plans." His remarks were greeted with sustained applause.

"All On Trial"

A. Guastavino, 441 87th street, demanded, "The shortest cut out of this. I'm putting you all on trial. My house is in the worst condition of any in the county and I hold the board of supervisors responsible." He also said, "The high school had no business piling that dirt there all winter."

Art Nelson, 623 Larchmont, said he had observed where the school district had taken a jackhammer and torn up a hole in San Pedro road which led to a small manhole. "Did they expect to catch all the water there?" he asked. "Isn't the school responsible?"

Edson said the matter of establishing liability was not an easy one, but suggested that persons with excessive property damage file their claims with the school district.

On the proposal to establish an assessment district, Cauchi said, "The people of Broadmoor are 100 per cent in favor of it, but Daly City is not. Could we force them to come in? They contribute the most to the problem?"

Need Council OK

Edson said parts of Daly City could be included in the district, but not without the city council's approval.

Edson added that a special assessment district just to include the local area could be formed in "a few months," in answer to protests of citizens who said the special district wouldn't be formed in time to save their lands.

In other BPOA action Thursday, directors held a preliminary discussion on the Baughman report and decided to call a special meeting on the report in the near future.

Bills of $128 for storm damage to trees were received, and Baker said this figure was "much lighter than we'd planned on."

The Baughman report was called for by a joint-committee made up of Daly City council and Broadmoor Property Owners association directors, for the purpose of determining advantages and disadvantages of the annexation of Broadmoor to Daly City.

Polling places, to be open between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m., will be located at the Garden Village school teachers' room; Broadmoor Police station, 388 88th street; and the Pierson garage, 804 Larchmont drive.

History behind Tuesday's election, as compiled from issues of THE RECORD has included:

Strip Annex Dispute

May 16—Thomas Noonan, Sterling Park homeowners association president, appeared at the Daly City council meeting to object to a proposed annexation of Edward C. Bocci and Conti estate property, which he said would end all hopes for incorporation of an area suggested in an earlier Coro foundation report. The council set June 27 as the date for hearing.

May 31—The council agreed to delay decision on the strip annexation at the plea of about 60 unincorporated Colma area residents. Councilmen also announced their desire to effect annexation of the area.

June 27—It was revealed that incorporation proponets had increased Northgate boundaries to include about five parcels of land wanted by Daly City, most important of which was an area zoned for industrial.

Commission Approval

July 7—County boundaries commission approved boundaries, excluding the Christianson ranch and the Lake Merced Golf course, subject to annexation proceedings by Daly City.

July 21 — County boundaries commission hearing on the boundaries.

July 26—Incorporation election petitions began circulation.

August 1—Broadmoor police district backed incorporation in a unanimous vote.

August 16—BPOA, in a five to two vote, decided that incorporation would be "detrimental." Daly City council and BPOA directors met to plan the Baughman report.

File Petitions

August 29—Petition, with about 1700 signatures, was filed with the county.

September 27 — County supervisors announced that the Northgate election would cost $2300, to be raised by incorporation proponents.

November 1—Daly City, South San Francisco, Builder Cris McKeon and 140 homeowners protested the Northgate incorporation at a public hearing by the Board of Supervisors.

November 4—Boundaries of the proposed city were cut by the supervisors to include only Broadmoor and Garden Village. Election was set for January 24.

November 10—BPOA directors voted unanimously that it would be "economically not feasible" to approve the Northgate incorporation.

November 31—Not one name had been entered for the position of Northgate councilman by the deadline.

January 11—Broadmoor police district voted to cast negative ballots for incorporation.

Aliens Must Register

Bruce G. Barber, District Director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service reminded all aliens in the San Francisco Area that only two weeks remain in which non-citizens must file their annual address report as required by law.

Failure to comply can mean fine, imprisonment, and/or deportation, in the case of willfull violations.

$100 BANK FUNDS STOLEN FROM PERSHING SCHOOL

Approximately $100 was stolen Tuesday noon from the office of Don Pagani, General Pershing school principal. All of the money had been collected earlier from students for Bank of America school savings accounts.

Officers said that the funds were taken between 12 noon and 12:30 p.m. while Pagani was at lunch. The money was on top of the principal's desk, and the door was left open, police said.

Louis Pisani, Daly City Bank of America manager, said today that the Bank will stand the loss if it is shown by investigation to be a bona fide robbery.

GOOD CITIZENS REGISTER, VOTE

Good government begins at home, and Daly City is faced with the important decision of selecting two councilmen and voting on a recall issue at the April 10 election.

But before a citizen may exercise his voting franchise, he must be duly registered.

As the February 16 registration deadline approaches, probably one-fifth of Daly City's residents are not yet eligible to vote because of failure to register or vote in previous elections.

Citizens who fail to vote when eligible, or lose their right to vote through failure to register, are forfeiting their rights.

They are handing over to others the job of doing their thinking. They are defaulting on a basic right that was not won easily and are depriving themselves of their prerogative to make a decision at the polling places.

A resident who fails to register or vote is harming himself and his community.

He is eliminating himself from the voice of government and, collectively, doing away with the "majority rules" concept.

We encourage every resident of Daly City over 21 years of age who meets residency requirements to play his part in the government of Daly City by first making sure he is registered and then exercising his franchise at the polls.

YUBA CITY; A SMALLER VERSION

The stories from Yuba City of devastating floods still seem pretty far removed from Daly City, but this community had its own version of disaster on a smaller scale Saturday night.

And just as the community rallied as one to Yuba City's plight, Daly City can well be proud of its spirit displayed last weekend when a sea of mud came cascading down the mountains against homes on East Vista avenue.

First there were the National Guard members, laboring for hours through the mire and muck to clean up the stricken area. Then there were the neighbors, the citizens who came out of nowhere to offer without promise of even thanks to pitch in wherever they could. Local policemen and firemen performed admirably, without shirking. The city employees toiled doggedly, while city officials left beds to aid the efforts wherever possible. The Red Cross responded to the scene, offering food and drink to the tired workmen.

As a result of this union of effort, damage was reduced to a minimum and the residents of the endangered homes did not have to be evacuated.

It usually takes a disaster of this type to show the "stuff" a community's made of. From Saturday's demonstration, the ingredients are pretty solid.

JURY TRANSCRIPT ON STALLINGS IS KEPT FROM BOARD

The county grand jury placed the issue of whether county manager Robert Stallings should be censured right in the laps of the board of supervisors Monday night.

The board conferred with jurors, but the grand jury refused to turn over transcript of its proceedings in which Stallings was censured for awarding contracts on jobs over $2000 without calling for bids and purchasing supplies with out proper requisitions.

The jury merely read excerpts of the transcripts Monday, then called on the board to use their own judgment in making a decision as to any possible disciplinary action against the manager.

Thomas Callan Sr. of Colma, chairman of the board, said he would call a special meeting of the supervisors to determine if they wished the Stallings hearing to be open or closed. He said he agreed with Supervisor William Werder that the whole proceedings should be out in the open.

Callan said, however, that he might call a preliminary caucus meeting with supervisors, foreman of the grand jury, and the district attorney to get more of the facts.

District Attorney Keith Sorenson warned the board Monday night that if they revealed any of the material in the jury's transcript without the jury's approval they could be prosecuted under the law.

Two Daly City Men, Badly Wounded, Tell Differing Stories

Two Daly City men were treated at Junipero Serra hospital early Sunday morning for similar wounds. Both denied any connection with each other and told differing stories on how the injuries were inflicted.

First to receive medical treatment was Raymond Veit, 25, 115 Moltke street, who arrived at the hospital at 1:50 a.m. Veit said he was jumped and knifed by two men at Lawrence and Mission streets when he refused to give them money.

His injuries included an eight-inch slash on the right side of his neck, an eight-inch cut on his right cheek, a one-inch slash on his nose and a six-inch wound on his lower chest, hospital attendants said.

While Veit was still undergoing treatment, police brought to the hospital Edward F. McLaughlin, 48, 666 Hanover street. McLaughlin's wound was a two-inch cut below his left ear.

Police said McLaughlin reported that he had been hit in the head with a beer bottle while in a local bar, which he refused to identify.

The doctor in attendance, however, disputed McLaughlin's story and told officers that the wound was definitely not caused by a beer bottle.

Officers originally learned of McLaughlin's injuries when they were called to his home by his worried wife, who said that the apparent knife wound had been inflicted by the same person who had broken his jaw last year.

REMINDER to motorists that deadline for auto license plate application is February 4 is here made by Stan Seaton, manager of the Daly City motor vehicles office, 6165 Mission street. About 70 per cent of the plates have already been distributed, the manager said. Three additional employees have been added so that there is little waiting, he added. The office is open from 8 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturday and from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

GARBAGE PROBLEM CITED BY CITIZEN

Dear Sirs,

You may think this is very humorous, but I fail to see the humor in anything so stupid. The week of the big Christmas storm we put our garbage can out for our usual collection, and as happened to many others, we lost our can to the storm's fury.

Most stores were sold out of a replacement and I missed the next collection due to no can. When I finally purchased one, I also borrowed one from my employer, which I had been unable to do the previous week.

A week ago yesterday (January 10) I placed both cans out side by side and they collected one and left the other one full. I thought they may have overlooked one and tried again yesterday. The same thing happened again.

I called their office yesterday and they said they would be out today. Three men and a large garbage truck arrived at 10 a.m. and they informed my wife they would not pick it up because we did not have a two-can contract. My wife offered to pay extra if they would take it. Still the answer was "No." She told them of our storm loss and the Monday we didn't put out the usual can for collection. Still "No." With that they drove off leaving our three-week old garbage sitting on the sidewalk.

You must admit it would be silly to sign up for a two-can contract for one week and then return to our regular service.

Is there any way this can be prevented from happening again?

Top County Demos Work For Kefauver Pres. Delegation

A county-wide meeting of "Kefauver for President" supporters will be held tomorrow (Thursday) night starting at 8 p.m. at the hall of justice in San Mateo.

Top San Mateo County Democrats will work for the election of a presidential delegation that will pledge itself to Sen. Estes Kefauver, according to a statement released this week.

The joint statement was issued by Melvin E. Cohn, chairman of the San Mateo county democratic central committee and member of the executive committee of the state central committee, William Penaluna and Mrs. Beverly Halcrow, Democratic co-chairmen for the Ninth Congressional district and members of the executive committee of the state central committee, Frank Rose, president of the San Mateo County Council of Democratic clubs, and Marion Kent, veteran member of and past chairman of the county central committee.

The group said, "Sen. Kefauver has had occasion to visit this county several times during the past three years and we have acquired great admiration and respect for him. We believe that his stature as a great American on the national level and his qualifications to hold the highest office in our government are beyond question."

The statement added that, "We have no quarrel with many other great Democratic candidates in the field. It is merely our belief that Sen. Kefauver is the foremost of the finest group of candidates for the Presidency that the Democratic party has ever produced."

Tomorrow night's meeting is open to all Democrats who wish to work for the senator and to assist in the choice of delegates to the national convention, according to Penaluna.

N. COUNTY FLOOD DISTRICT URGED ON ZONE BASIS

A meeting of the representatives of the North County cities for the formation of a North County Flood Control district was held in Burlingame, Thursday.

Representatives of the cities from Daly City in the north and Burlingame in the south met to discuss the establishment of a flood control district. All were in agreement that the problem must be met on a zone basis.

It was decided that Herbert C. Crowe of Alameda county and Carl Rich of Contra Costa county, both of whom have had extensive experience in the establishments of flood control districts, be invited to meet with the North Cities Council at its February meeting.

General opinion was that enabling legislation must be prepared for introduction at the special session of the legislature to expedite formation of the district.

Cy Weiler, Daly City director of public works, represented Daly City at the meeting.

Two For Tonight

By Leonore Brewer

Last Wednesday evening at the War Memorial Community center, the Vista Grande Concert association presented Carl Palangi, bass-baritone, as their second offering in the 1955-56 series. Expertly accompanied by Lilian Clark, he presented a program which was well received by a small but appreciative audience.

Palangi has a big lustrous voice which he handles with ease and imagination. When power is required, as in the arias from "Mefistofele" and "Prince Igor," one receives the impression that he is drawing from unlimited reserves, with no sacrifice of tonal quality for mere volume.

With a wide range of expression, he brought just the right shading to each selection. There was tenderness in the lullaby from "La Flora," reverence in Handel's "Dank sei dir, Herr." The aria from Boito's version of the Faust legend had a sardonic majesty. The little song by Tosti was filled with that melancholy joy in sorrow found in songs of farewell to a lost beloved, while the "Prince Igor" aria reflected the dark gloom which pervades the Slavic soul in opera and literature.

Impressive Presence

He has a commanding stage presence which promises much for future operatic roles, to which he will be able to bring histrionic ability in addition to the dark splendor of his voice.

However, the effect of this impressive presence was shattered when he prefaced his fourth and last group of songs with a soggy joke about "furrin" music. In other words, disparaging and apologizing for three-quarters of his program. After that, we were prepared for the worst and we got it.

Odd Notion

There is a curious notion that persists in the minds of the people who advise an artist on his program that the audience which has come to hear a voice of concert caliber sing music worthy of his artistry has a mad desire to hear that voice sing a group of insipid little ditties, followed by a cluster of encores that have been sung to death, but unfortunately never buried.

So far we have been fortunate that custom dictates that such drivel closes the program, enabling the cynical to leave early. For the sake of the record, your correspondent remained faithful to her post to the bitter end.

Palangi's coach is Gualtiero Bartalini, well known to musically-minded Bay Area residents. He last appeared here in 1948 when he presented a one-man show of pantomime and song to standing room only. It was a one-man show in its fullest sense; Bartalini wrote the script, played all the characters, including such diverse roles as a Byzantine saint, Cesare Borgia and a Basque peasant. He even designed the costumes and some of the jewelry pieces. The result was a night to remember.

Youthful Shoplifters Pick Wrong Customer In DC Auxiliary Cop

Two Colma School brothers showed poor selection of a prospective customer Sunday afternoon when they tried to sell a stolen fountain pen to a Daly City auxiliary police officer.

The officer, Sam Sturdevant of 143 Peoria street, reported that the boys approached him at Hillcrest and Mission streets at 4:30 p.m. and asked him if he would like to buy a pen for $5. When Sturdevant asked where they had gotten the pen, the boys replied that they had found it lying on the street.

Growing suspicious, Sturdevant took the pen and the boys in tow, and entered McGraw's drug store. The shamefaced youngsters heard store employees identify the pen as part of McGraw's stock, and the older brother then admitted the theft.

Both boys were released to the custody of their parents after returning the pen.

CHAMBER ASKS FUND FOR PARKING ZONES

Daly City Chamber of Commerce recommended last week that a portion of the revenue collected from parking meters be placed in a special fund for acquisition of off-street parking facilities.

Sanford Vickers, member of the council's parking committee, relayed the Chamber's recommendations at Monday's council meeting.

Vickers said the Chamber also went on record as favoring the off-street parking program originally outlined by them in a survey compiled two years ago.

No specific recommendation was made by the chamber on time limits for parking.

TV and Radio

By Mona Baker

TV REACHES INTO OUR COMMUNITY . . . One of the leading arguments for educational television is that it serves groups with specialized interests, some times reaching those individuals who had no particular interest in watching a television program. We have two examples of just such a situation right here in our community with the debut last week of two programs over Channel 9 . . . "Together We Grow" (Tuesdays, Bi-weekly, 8:30 p.m.) and "Introduction to Investments" (Mondays, 8:30 p.m.)

"Together We Grow" is produced by the Adult Education Division of the San Francisco Unified School district in cooperation with KQED, and is designed as a sprinboard for discussions to be held in concurrent meetings of Bay Area cooperative nursery schools. The two schools in the local area who participated in the program are "Village Play School" which serves Northern San Mateo county, and "Lake Merced Cooperative play school" which covers Stonestown, Parkmerced area. The first program featured San Francisco and state school officials in a general discussion of nursery school activities. Members of the two local nursery schools held their regular Tuesday night meeting, watched the telecast and then held their own discussions on the subject.

Schools Enthusiastic

In talking to the two directors of the schools, both were enthusiastic about the potentialities of such a program series. Mrs. Alvin Pelavin, director of the Village Play school said that the first program was a very provocative television program. She believes that such a series will bring to the group "more interesting and varied speakers than the schools could secure on their own." Mrs. Donald Knuth, Director of the Lake Merced school, said her group was stimulated by the program and had a good discussion followed the telecast. She believes this series will be of additional benefit to the cooperatives because the programs will also stimulate public interest in the cooperative nursery school program.

Members of both schools are scheduled to appear on future telecasts and participate in the discussion at the KQED studios. The Village Play school will be represented on the telecast of February 7, "When Parents Differ," and members of the Lake Merced school will appear on the program on March 6, discussing the subject of "Creative Activities Through Stories."

Investment Program

"Introduction to Investments" is a program designed to acquaint present or potential investors with the facts necessary to invest intelligently and is produced by Channel 9 in cooperation with the Security Analysts Society of San Francisco.

A local group that is particularly interested in following the series is the "Broadmoor Investment Company" which is a group of local citizens who have formed a club for the purpose of buying stock. The group meet every couple of months, discuss the stock market and decide on a stock to purchase. If anyone is interested in forming such a club, the Broadmoor Investment group will be happy to furnish material and information on organizing such a group. Address the "Broadmoor Investment Company," c/o Thomas Jenkins, trustee, 625 Market street, San Francisco.

All over the country, more and more adults are enrolling in telecourses. According to the National Citizens Committee for Education TV, in 1955 education by television became possible for some 39,000,000 Americans, and during 1956 with the addition of eight other stations, 46,000,000 people will be brought within the ETV broadcast range.

Urae Synchronization Of Alemany Signals

Synchronization of traffic signals on Alemany boulevard from Junipero Serra to Skyline boulevards was called for by Mayor Joseph Verducci Monday night.

Citing the traffic hazards existing at the intersections on Alemany, Verducci said the signs should be adjusted so that the flow of traffic is steady.

Verducci suggested that the Daly City traffic inspector make a survey of the traffic problem on Alemany, after which the council could forward its request for synchronization of the signals to the state.

Cost of the signal project would be shared by Daly City and the state.

Chuck Suenderman has been seeing stars lately—at the Planetarium, that is. He and his father, Hank, together with David Fletcher and his father, Quentin, had a special expedition there as part of Chuck's 10th birthday celebration. Also part of the celebration was a family dinner party held the Sunday before at the Suenderman home on Byrant street with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Prather and their children Hale, Nancy and Margaret over from Marin, Mrs. R. C. Smith and Miss Vine Trumbull over from Berkeley, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jesser down from San Francisco. They are Chuck's aunt and uncle and cousins, grandmother and great-aunt, and cousins, respectively!

Peg Elliot and children three are back home on Bradley, after a month's visit in Pittsburgh, Pa., with Peg's parents. It was nine years since Peg had been home, and the biggest change she noticed was how much cleaner the city had become. Even though the snow was few and far between, there was one good day for sledding, which delighted the young ones, but there wasn't enough to build a snow man. Highlight of the visit for daughter Ley was the phone call she made to her teacher, Miss Forges, who was spending the vacation at her home in Springdale, just outside of Pittsburgh. Highlight of the trip for the boys was the train ride—sleeping in berths, eating in the diner (with several very attentive waiters in tow), and even a look at the kitchen car. Highlight of the whole vacation for Peg was getting to sleep late every morning, with grandma to manage the food problem, and grandpa to repair toys and answer questions! To say nothing of a nice warm, dry basement to wash and hang clothes to dry in!

Home From Hospital

Glad to hear that Budd West is back home on MacArthur after his sojourn in the hospital following his accident. He'll have to be in a body cast for four months or so more, though, but being home will make it easier to take. Both Lois and Budd couldn't say enough about what wonderful neighbors they have. They kept the children and did many other things for Lois so she could spend her time with Budd at the hospital, and when Lois brought Budd home, she found a special surprise waiting for her. It was her birthday and her neighbors had given her not one, but three birthday cakes! Speaking of birthdays, Budd's was Christmas Eve, so his very best present was special permission from the doctor to have his little girls visit him for an hour Christmas Day. And speaking of presents, a special thank you to all those neighbors we mentioned from Budd, Lois and us.

It was old home week at Gail Foster's on Washington. Shirley Kramer, a girl with whom Gail had served in the WAC, and whom she hadn't seen for seven years, stopped by with her husband Harry and their daughter for a four-day visit. The Kramers were on a trip out here from Waukegan, Illinois. Gail had a dinner party, to which she invited another service friend, Veronica McLaughlin, and her husband from Los Altos, so things were very military around the Foster house for a while! Veronica and Gail had been stationed at the Santa Maria air base together, and Shirley and Gail had been together in San Francisco in the interests of the 4th Air Force.

Assigned To Alaska

While we're mentioning the military, CWO Fred Gieseke and family are now en route to Ft. Lewis, Washington, from where they will be sent to Alaska for three years. The Giesekes, with children Stephen, Timothy and Chrislyn in tow, plan to visit Fred's four sisters on the way. Three live in Oregon and one in Seattle. The coincidence department of this item revolves around the fact that, though Fred and Ted Giesecke (also of our Village) are not related, they did know each other at the University of Oregon, and each came to Broadmoor not knowing that the other was here too. Fred lived on Thornhill, and Ted is on Stewart.

Another young man with a birthday was Harold Chinevere, our neighbor on Maddux. He started off with a family dinner at Fisherman's Wharf Saturday evening, and wound things up in a blaze of glory with a deluxe 9-candle cake, etc., at his home on Sunday afternoon. Guests appreciating the refreshments were Kurt Hines, Don Torkelson, David Lee, Jack and Danny Mitchell, Stephen Gieseke, Jennin Worn, Ernie and Vickie Garcia, Jimmy Carpenter, and sister Wanda Chinevere.

Over on Midway, Rosemary Lamentia had a club meeting recently. This club, like another one we know, doesn't have a name, but it has been going strong since all its members graduated from Lincoln High together. Accepting Rosemary's hospitality were Helen Vraggen, Jan Devlon, Pat Maffei, Dolly Steele, and Jewel Jacini.

Vote Registration

Since this is an election year, Villagers will be glad to know that our area is thick with deputy county registrars! Gert Green on Manila, Tom Jenkins and Jim McKay on Nimitz, and Howard Richardson on Louvaine are as close as your phone, and they are hoping to be kept busy by Villagers wanting to register for all the different things which will come up this year about which everyone will have a chance to express his or her opinion—provided he or she is duly registered in time! Don't wait—act now!

The season for having parties is with us again, with Vi Murphy starting it off with a copper party. A very medical gathering to be sure, with Dolores Helmer, Lois Swanson, Jen Smith, Roberta Taylor, Hilda Stettler, Harriet Hageman, Rosemary Lamentia, Bea Yates and Agnes Rizzarto attending. Locale: Midway, naturally!

The school population of 1960-61 has received a tremendous boost with the score 4 to 1 in favor of boys! Actually, the score is tied, with girls winning 3 to 0 last week. Since ladies go first, the William Wilsons of Larchmont are the proud possessors of Cheryl Ann, a 7 lb., 8 oz. holiday gift for brothers Billy and Johnny. Barbara and Tom Phillips decided to even things up on Larchmont, though, with Robert Allen as their entry in the stork sweepstakes. He's pretty special, being a first baby—to say nothing of being a 9 lb., 15 oz. Christmas Eve arrival.

More Babies

Sweetwood came in for its share of glory, too, with Johnny James Sable running things his way these days. Bowing to the royal decrees of his 7 lb., 2 oz. majesty are parents Ben and Helen, sister Patsy, and brother Billy. . . . And, oh, the luck of some people! A 7 lb., 12 oz. income tax exemption named Charles Duane arrived for Barbara and Hugh Alderdice on December 31! Great rejoicing on Washington street, you may be sure, with young Mark and Margaret joining in.

There must be mental telepathy on Stoneyford. Jean Cain and Eleanor Garrissere began the whole thing by spending the same weekend in the same hospital in false anticipation, and came home on the same day. Then, a week later, Jean went back on Monday and Eleanor on Tuesday, and both welcomed new sons into their families. James Eugene Garrissere, 7 lbs., 13 ozs., was the first boy in the family, with sisters Kathleen and Susan liking the idea very much. Anthony Charles Cain, 9 lbs., 13 oz., was the third boy in his family, being welcomed by brothers Timothy and Christopher. He didn't pick a very good day to arrive, though — the Monday of the first big storm. When Jean had an idea she had better be on the way to the hospital, there was no water, no power and no phone, so she couldn't reach anybody. After a frantic searching among neighbors who could drive but had no car, and neighbors who had cars but couldn't drive, she finally made it in to St. Mary's hospital in the nick of time, with the former sort of neighbor driving a car belonging to the latter sort of neighbor!

This And That

Bits and Snatches: Young David Reichard is the proud possessor of a guitar he won on the Buckskin Bob program on KQED. Gilman drive is now the Chisholm Trail! . . . Broadmoor Den Mothers really turned out in force at the Den Mothers Council in South San Francisco recently. About 11 were there, we hear. . . . Apologies to Rosemary and Harold McVicar on Village Lane, who inadvertently became the "McVicker" family in last week's column, discourtesy of our typewriter. . . . Roberta Taylor has had it. Sons Dean and Dale had mumps for Christmas, husband John has been in the hospital with a strained back, and both the dog and the cat got sick. Nimitz drive's Calamity Corner!

Pete and Carol Alba are very busy these days, entertaining Carol's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Anhalt, who are visiting for a month or so out here on 87th street. They are residents of Fortuna, North Dakota, and have been out here before. Recent family special event was a dinner party, with Carol's cousins, the Val Beckdahls, coming over from Richmond for the occasion.

If you happened to see or hear or be at Mayor Christopher's inauguration, you undoubtedly heard George Wall (Westlake) and Ray Dusté (ex-Broadmoorite now in San Mateo). They were contributing joy to the occasion with trombone and oboe, being members of the concert orchestra which played in the City Hall rotunda before and after the ceremony. Encore, encore!

Crockerites Report

Third Grade - Mrs. Lorey

We are finishing our unit on Indians. We have almost finished a small pueblo we are making. Some of the children are writing reports about things we have learned. Others are drawing pictures. Tommy Moyles and Manuel Jiminez were two of the children who were at the Tuesday night PTA meeting. Our class was invited to see an Indian demonstration of folklore, songs, history and exhibits. Those of us who could attend enjoyed the program. We were interested in the many Indian articles she showed. The rest of the class enjoyed hearing about it the next morning. We want to thank our PTA for inviting us.

Fourth Grade - Mrs. Edgerley

Our class is busy working on a new project. We are studying all about teeth. We are finishing a display on our bulletin board; it shows the proper daily diet needed for healthy teeth, the exercise, visits to a dentist, etc. that are necessary for healthy teeth.

In December we finished our unit on Early California by compiling an 84 page scrapbook. For the cover of our scrapbook we made smaller copy of our large mural on Early California showing how white men first came and traded with the Indians and how Indians were Christianized and then became a part of mission life.

'Can-Can' Is Now Playing At Curran

When Feuer and Martin's production of Cole Porter's successfully exciting stage musical "Can-Can" closed in New York on June 25th, it broke all previous records of musical hits at the 42-year-old formances. It is now at the Curran Theatre, San Francisco, until January 28. Performances are nightly including Sundays and matinees on Saturdays

San Francisco is the 10th city in the country to see this musical of Paris. Abe Burrows, previously identified with Feuer and Martin's "Guys and Dolls" as co-author, wrote the gay story of the little French laundresses who stole away at night to dance the "Can-Can." Michael Kidd conceived and staged the colorful exciting dance numbers, including the one for which the musical is named and the fanciful and now famous "Garden of Eden" Ballet. Jo Mielziner designed the spectacular settings and Motley was responsible for the costumes.

General Pershing News

First - Miss Chase

The first grade in Room 16 are busy planning. They are very interested in the appearance of the room. All are good housekeepers. Now we are decorating the bulletin boards in the room. We will make curtains for our room soon. The children want yellow curtains; they decided it would not keep the sunshine out.

Kindergarten - Mrs. Byassee

We are all excited about the arrival of three baby mice this past week. We have a new boy, Stephen Chroniger, in the afternoon class. It is nice to see the children back from their bouts with the measles. Our morning class really had quite a few absent.

Our play house needs a sink and an oven. These can be made from Orange crates. We would be so happy if someone would make these for us.

EDUCATORS ATTEND CTA CONFERENCE

Over 300 educators representing 21,000 teachers of the Bay Section, California Teachers Association met in Berkeley Saturday to act on policy matters affecting the teaching profession and the public schools.

The Bay Section Council, legislative body of CTA for the 13 counties of the Bay Area completed plans for a survey of teacher attitude toward tenure for smaller school districts, a subject now being studied by an interim committee of the State Legislature. Social Security and other plans for providing teachers with survivor benefits were discussed.

Mrs. Marjorie Reandeau, high school teacher in Daly City, attended the meeting. She was recently elected to the Board of Directors of the Bay Section, California Teachers Association.

"PROVIDENCE HAS GIVEN US HOPE"
— *(Author's name below) —

There is now no reason why you should fear any possible illness. Modern medicine can give some relief for any ailment, and in most cases has the knowledge to effect a cure.

Most important is the fact that Physicians are daily learning more about how to prevent sickness. There is, "Hope," that in our time, serious diseases will occur only to those who neglect visiting their Physician for regular check-ups. If you will consult him at the first sign of any illness, he can help you to get well quicker.

Mid-term Hi Grads May Enter Army 6-Month Plan

Mid-term high school graduates who plan to enter college or business next fall were urged this week to enroll immediately for the new six-month Army Reserve training program by Brigadier General Claude F. Burbach, Army Reserve Chief for Northern California.

In a press release issued from his headquarters at the Presidio of San Francisco, General Burbach pointed out that January graduates who enroll now for training under the new Reserve Forces Act can begin their six-month training period in February or March, finish it in time to enter college or take permanent employment next fall, and be exempt from the draft for the rest of their careers.

Open only to men between the ages of 17 and 18½, the six-month reserve training program offers an opportunity to complete the entire military obligation at an age when other men still face induction for two years of active service plus three years of obligatory reserve training under the new law.

To counsel young men and their parents on the provisions of the new law, a Reserve Forces Act advisor will be on duty daily during the months of January and February at the Armed Forces Induction Station on the corner of Market and Van Ness in San Francisco. In addition, a Reserve Information Office is maintained permanently at Stilwell Hall on the Presidio of San Francisco. Both offices are open week days from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., and the Presidio office is open evenings from 8 p.m. to 10 p.m.

Attendance at the opening session of the public forum on religion exceeded expectations, according to Father Norman Allen of Our Lady of Perpetual Help church.

"The great interest in religion prevailing throughout the nation is reflected in the large number of Daly City residents who came to the forum," Father Allen said. He also stated that it was a most interesting gathering from a standpoint of audience participation.

"A surprisingly large number of questions were asked from the floor in addition to those placed in the question box, which is rather unusual for opening night," he declared.

Crocker Chapter, O.E.S., Sees Tremendous Growth

Editor's note: This is the ninth of a series of articles on local women's organizations. THE RECORD will feature each women's club listed in our files in alphabetical order.

Idea of a local chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star was conceived in 1921 by Mrs. Tweedie Riddell. After working less than a year on her project, Mrs. Riddell was gratified to receive 42 petitions for either affiliate or initiate membership.

On September 9, 1921, these charter members met in the old Knowles hall to institute a new chapter, which they titled Crocker chapter No. 382. Through these past 34 years, the group has grown in numbers until it now has well over 400 members on its rolls.

Although the order provides an opportunity for many social events, primary purpose of the Eastern Star women is to "serve humanity." Philanthropic work includes an educational fund to which each chapter contributes and the J. Clifford Lee cancer fund from which many persons have received financial help.

Crocker chapter meets twice monthly to plan these social and charitable events and projects.

Officers, who were installed last November, are: Mrs. Jennie Dimond, worthy matron; Roger Fernandez, worthy patron; Mrs. Wilma Lebeck, associate matron; Maurice Lebeck, P.P., associate patron; Mrs. Ileme Ulshoeffer, conductress; Mrs. Lillian Stretch, associate conductress; Mrs. Isabella Malone, P.M., secretary; Mrs. Rose Wieland, P.M., treasurer; Mrs. Helen John, chaplain; Mrs. Leah White, P.M., marshall; Mrs. Lois Repp, organist; Mrs. Katherine Lincoln, Adah; Mrs. Letha Jackson, Ruth; Bertha Franklin, Esther; Mrs. Maye Christman, Martha; Mrs. Gladys Harrison, Electa; Mrs. Grace Ginsberg, warder; Mrs. Gertrude Thomas, sentinel; and George Repp, flag bearer.

Crocker-Pershing PTA Plans Survey Participation

An important announcement, made by Crocker-Pershing PTA president, Mrs. Jack White, at a recent meeting, concerned the county-wide survey which is being made to determine the school enrollment for the next five years.

Mrs. R. Soria, ways and means chairman, will head the survey for this district, assisted by co-captains, Mrs. E. Russell and Mrs. White. The poll will be conducted for ten days starting January 30. Letters will be sent to parents for volunteer help on this project. The possible elimination of double sessions in school is the main reason for the survey.

Also on the question of double session, a representative from James L. Snell PTA, Mrs. Erby, spoke on the progress made by a committee from Garden Village school which has been working on the problem. A petition was circulated for members of Crocker-Pershing PTA to sign.

Mrs. J. L. Hastings, guest speaker of the evening, held the interest and attention of the audience for a full 35 minutes with her talk on Indians. She told of their habits and customs, sang a few Indian songs, and displayed several Indian gifts which have been given to her. Mrs. Hastings became interested in Indian people 20 years ago when she became acquainted with the Gold Wind organization for Indians sponsored by the Quakers.

Appointment of the Life Membership committee, plans for Founders Day meeting, and annual reports are on the agenda for the next Executive Board meeting, Jan. 24.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SUNDAY SERMON IS SPIRITUAL QUALITIES

Why the spiritual qualities of honesty, unselfishness, and obedience are important to an understanding of Truth will be brought out at Sharp Park Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptual selections to be read in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Truth" will include Jesus' parable of the sower and his explanation of its meaning for his disciples (Luke 8).

Among the correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is the following (272:3-8): "The spiritual sense of truth must be gained before Truth can be understood. This sense is assimilated only as we are honest, unselfish, loving, and meek. In the soil of an 'honest and good heart' the seed must be sown; else it beareth not much fruit, for the swinish element in human nature uproots it."

The Golden Text is from Psalms (86:15): "Thou, O Lord, art a God full of compassion, and gracious, long-suffering, and plenteous in mercy and truth."

SCRAP PLANS FOR PUBLIC HOSPITAL

Plans for a north San Mateo county hospital which would have been financed with federal, state and local funds have been tabled, Councilman Del Wilson said Monday night.

He told the council that his hospital committee had given up the idea of a major public hospital because Daly City was ranked 54th on the state's priority list. He said the committee decided it would be better to try and encourage establishment of a private hospital here.

The committee is still working for a north San Mateo county health center, Wilson revealed. He said the county has recommended that Daly City lease a building to be used as a temporary clinic, but Wilson added that, "I can't see the people of Daly City having to put up any money to bring the health center here."

STORM DRAINS POUR WATER INTO SEWERS

Storm drains which are pouring water into the sanitary sewers may pose a serious problem, the North San Mateo County Sanitation district directors agreed at their meeting Monday.

According to Director Sanford Vickers, some of the drains are tied in with the sewers and a sustained rain might result in excess water passing through the new sewage treatment plant and ruining some of the equipment.

The directors called for a study to determine how the problem could be overcome.

In other action, the board received estimate of $1000 for installation of a manhole at 426 Bellevue avenue.

Confidential Jury Report Finds Way To Peninsula Press

Grand jurors expressed amazement today that parts of their top-secret transcript of the hearings in which censure of County Manager Robert Stallings was recommended reached the hands of Peninsula newspapers.

The document, which included a portion of the transcript, was an outline of serious charges against Stallings and was used as a reference at a joint jury-board of supervisors meeting Monday night.

The copy of the six-page mimeographed document was mailed to the reporters at the county court house press room Wednesday.

Earlier, jurors had voted to keep the transcript of the hearings confidential, refusing even to turn it over in its entirety to the board of supervisors.

District Attorney Keith Sorenson opined that release of the document was a misdemeanor violation and that public use of its contents would be libelous and subject the user to possible criminal action.

INDIAN CAGERS SHARE FIRST IN NPAL; DO BATTLE WITH SSF RIVALS TONIGHT

Hutchinson Clinches It In 4th Period

Darrell Hutchinson's eight-points in the final quarter turned an otherwise close game into a rout as Jefferson High school varsity basketball team downed Capuchino, 57-45, Tuesday to hang on to a share of first place in the NPAL with three wins, one loss.

At the end of the half the Indians held a slim 30-28 lead, increased it to 41-37 at the close of the third period.

Hitting on three driving lay-ins and two free throws, Hutchinson scored half of his team's 16-point total in the final quarter as the Daly City five won going away. The Mustangs were held to 8 point in the last heat.

Larry Pottinger dunking five straight jump shots in a row from his favorite corner position in the second half, came up with 20 digits for the evening and high point honors. The 20-point output placed Pottinger right near the top of the league for individual scoring.

Center Ray Schultz carried the Indians defensively throughout the first half as he pulled off 16 rebounds, against 8 for the opposing center Gary Estabrook, who towered two inches taller than the Jefferson pivot man.

Right behind Pottinger in scoring was Hutchinson with 15. Then came Schultz with 10, Bill Curtis, 8, and Jim Honeywell, 4. Only six players saw action in the Capuchino tilt, as Coach Mike Orlich played it "close to his belt," not wanting to forfeit his chance to remain in contention for first place. Tom Cloutier was the only reserve to get off the bench during the tilt.

The Daly City varsity now holds first place in the NPAL jointly with Burlingame and San Mateo.

Coach Tony Giammona's 30s were handed their third loss in four trips to the court as the Mustang lights came alive in the third quarter to win, 49-41.

The papooses jumped to a 7-2 opening quarter lead, held on to hold a 15-14 half-time advantage.

The third period was disastrous for the Indians, as their defense became ragged, allowing Capuchino to nudge through 18 points, aganist 11 for the Jeffs. The Indians nearly kept up with the Caps in the final quarter, netting 15 to their 16.

The 'Tangs John Condrin tanked 25 points, almost every one of them off shots right under the basket, when the Indian defense was out of place.

Stan Weld shared scoring honors for the Indians with Gene Firth, each getting 11. Weld made only one field goal, but pitched through nine free throws. Gary Ryan hit 10, George Rocchi, 7, and Barry Haanan, 2.

RIVAL SSF HOSTS INDIANS FRI. NIGHT

Tip-off for the preliminary 30s contest will be at 7:30 p.m.

RESTITUTION ON BUM CHECKS ORDERED BY MUNI COURT JUDGE

A Daly City couple were sentenced Tuesday by Municipal Court Judge Thomas L. Bocci to make restitution on about $55 worth of bad checks passed in this area for the last several months.

Only one of the five victims of the check passers to sign a complaint was Mike Jacobs, owner of [illegible]'s Market on Junipero Serra boulevard. Mrs. Velma Coccellato, 42 Vale street, pleaded guilty to the King's Market complaint last Thursday, however the judge ordered that both Mrs. Coccellato and her husband, Donald, appear before him Tuesday for sentencing when police produced other bum checks as evidence.

The pair was ordered to make restitution on all the checks, placed on a year's probation and fined $50.

DeLucca attained the evening's high series on games of 161, 205, 215.

Second-place Westlake Homes failed to keep pace, although they managed to win a pair from Daly City Cleaners. Rudy Alholm's 548 series led the Westlakers.

San Pedro Lunch remained in third with two victories over Paul's Flowers. Al Wright's 233 game, high for the night, was not enough to push San Pedro into victory in the third game.

In other games, Starway Cocktails dumped Thur Meat twice, and Carlos Pizzeria turned in a triple killing over Brentwood Lodge. D. Girton's 210 game and C. Knapp's 516 series helped guide Pizzeria to their sweep.

D. Wills of Starway and Dell Fehl of San Pedro shared runner-up honors for high individual game with 225s, while Romeo Raggio of Paul's Flowers had a fourth best 222.

Second high series was Andrew Van Der Werff's 551.

Panther 5 Upsets Jeff, 30s Win 1st

Jefferson High school varsity basketball team suffered their first NPAL loss Friday when they were stunned by a surprisingly strong Burlingame club, 51-46, while the Daly City 30s turned in their first league win, topping the Panthers, 34-28.

The Panther varsity, displaying swift ball handling and a driving offense, capitalized on the absence of Jeff regulars Larry Pottenger and Jim Honeywell to overtake the Indians in the fourth quarter and retain the lead to the end.

Pottenger, the Indian's top scorer, was injured in the second quarter and returned to action briefly in the second half, only to be yanked again because of his inability to run.

Honeywell was out of action recuperating from a strep throat.

In the time that Pottenger was in the game, he hit 11 points to rank as runner up in scoring to Bill Curtis, who netted 12 markers. Darrell Hutchenson also got in two figures with 10.

Burlingame's rangy guard Pete Carboni was the difference between the two league-leading clubs, as he hit nine out of 13 field goal tries and bucketed a total of 21 points, including two crucial goals in the fourth quarter after the Indians had moved into a 41-39 lead on Hutchenson's two-pointer. Carboni's first shot knotted the score and his second field goal put the Panthers ahead to stay.

Barry Haanan's backboard control and 14-point output gave the local 30s a 34-28 victory, their first in three PAL starts. The little Indians trailed, 16-13, at the half, but notched 14 points in the fourth quarter.

Gary Ryan hit for eight markers, Gene Firth, 6, George Rocchi, 4, and Stan Weld, 2.

Golf Tips

By BILL McARTHUR
Professional, Treasure Island Driving Range

There are no easy golf shots, but I do agree that some golf shots are much easier executed than others. Golf shots hit off of level fairways are naturally a great deal easier than shots hit from the side of a sharply sloped fairway. This is true not only with the high handicapped player, but with good players as well.

Since we don't have a choice as to what type of fairway we must play from, the first thing to do would be to learn to hit shots from any type of lie.

UP HILL LIE: Take a practice swing. Notice where the clubhead comes closest to the ground as you swing through. The clubhead will touch the ground at the highest point which is up near the left foot. (Left handers it would be the right foot). This is where we must play the ball. Set your right foot firmly, take the clubhead back following the contour of the ground and as you hit the ball hit it on the up swing. With a good follow through. On this type of lie use a club with a little less loft than you would normally use, to compensate for the amount of loft gained when hitting on the upswing.

DOWN HILL LIE: Notice here that when you take a practice swing your clubhead will touch the ground back near the right foot where the ground is the highest. This is where we play the ball for this type of lie. Set your left foot firmly, follow the contour of the ground on the upswing, and hit the ball on the down swing with a good follow through. Use a club with a little more loft to compensate for hitting down at the ball.

SIDE HILL LIE WITH THE BALL ABOVE YOUR FEET: Normally this lie will cause the ball to hook. To avoid a sharp hook or pull from this lie stand away from the ball an inch or so further than you normally would and play the ball in about the center of your stance with your hands slightly ahead of the clubhead. Make certain that you sweep the clubhead back with a definite inside out swing and follow through.

SIDE HILL LIE WITH THE BALL BELOW YOUR FEET: This type of lie will normally cause a slice. To avoid slicing the ball, stand about an inch or so closer and play the ball slightly to the left of target to allow for the ball fading to the right. Keep the ball in about the center of your stance.

When the ball is above the feet it would be wise to use a club length shorter than normal, whereas a ball lying below the feet calls for a club length longer than normal.

NEXT WEEK: How do I know what clubs are right for me?
